The ABCs of MOBILITY

What is a long-term mobility for studies*?

A period (1 or 2 semesters) spent abroad within the framework of an international agreement between our university and the host university

Main characteristics:

- Students have access to all services without paying tuition fees to the foreign institution
- Participants receive an expense contribution
- Full recognition of agreed academic activities (exams, thesis, etc.)

*‘study’ = courses and exams only; thesis only; courses and exams + thesis and/or work placement

Note: it is not possible to go on an internship only

Note: thesis and work placement: it is necessary for Partners to admit exchange students to these activities + a contribution for other services may be required

The ABCs of MOBILITY

What are the characteristics of a bilateral agreement?

- It is signed at School or Faculty or Department level (one belonging to the University of Padova and one to the Partner University) or at University level
- It determines the characteristics of the flows: who can leave, to study what, how many months of mobility can be financed, etc.
- Each agreement provides for a certain number of places available

Agreement between the two universities -> activities that can be carried out during the mobility -> LEARNING AGREEMENT

The activities to be carried out during the stay and those to be recognised in the career upon return are stipulated in the Learning Agreement, which is a contract signed by the UNIPD supervisor, the foreign supervisor and the student.

The choice of the destination(s) has a concrete impact on the academic career.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE DESTINATIONS

The Students Mobility Agreements Portal <https://www.unipd.it/mobility-agreements>

The screenshot shows a web form titled "Preselection" with the following fields:

- Program: A dropdown menu with the text "<-- Select all -->".
- Study field: A dropdown menu with the text "<-- Please select -->" and a red 'x' icon. Below it, a red error message reads: "This is a mandatory field, please make a selection."
- Country: A dropdown menu with the text "<-- Select all -->".
- Academic year: A dropdown menu with the text "2025/2026".
- Keyword: A text input field.
- Start search: A button located to the right of the keyword field.

From the destination portal, select your Degree Course (Study Field) and make sure you have selected the correct Academic Year of Mobility. Destinations can be filtered by type (Program) and by destination state (Country).

What to keep in mind when choosing your destination:

- a. Your studies (the educational aspect)
- b. Language of study/requirements of the partners
- c. Cost of living and scholarship
- d. Accommodation
- e. Organization of academic year
- f. Personal needs related to credit registration
- g. Cultural/geographical challenges
- h. Any visa requirement and possible renewal of residence permit

What to keep in mind when choosing your destination:

a. Your studies (the educational aspect): choosing a destination that suits the study programme you are enrolled in

KNOWING THE STUDY PROGRAMME YOU ARE ENROLLED IN

During the mobility you can «match» (= substitute) the exams you are supposed to take during the year of Mobility

-> do you know which are the mandatory exams foreseen by your study plan?

They can be replaced by courses in the same field, but NOT all universities offer courses covering all fields

->E.G. Medical Biotechnologies students will carry their master's thesis abroad as well as Pharmaceutical Biotechnologies students.

HOW TO EVALUATE THE HOST UNIVERSITY EDUCATIONAL OFFER

Unipd's courses foreseen by your study plan → Available courses at the Host University

They must belong to the same study field/scope.

Consult the syllabus of the foreign Institution and make sure the content and the number of ECTS are similar.

What to keep in mind when choosing your destination:

a. Your studies (the educational aspect): choosing a destination that suits the study programme you are enrolled in

AVAILABLE COURSES AT THE HOST UNIVERSITY

Which are the available courses for exchange students coming through that agreement?

In which language are they taught?

What restrictions are imposed on exchange students?

What structure (faculty/department) is the agreement with?

Universities, regardless of what they offer, may offer exchange students pre-defined tracks, lists to choose from, the possibility of choosing courses only from one course of study...

Note: you can choose maximum 3 extra exams outside your year of enrollment in 25/26.

Note: it is impossible to be certain now of next year's course offer, but it is important to check the general availability of courses in the areas necessary for your own study path, also in order to fill in the mandatory application annex to the application as well as possible

Available courses at Hosts universities

The information available can be found in the agreements portal, under the section 'restrictions', but can also be found on the partners' websites, in the Fact Sheets and can be requested directly from them.

Information of Agreement
Own information
Additional requirements	Economics
Academic calendar / mobility period	For this destination students selected during the second call can do the mobility during the SECOND semester ONLY.
Partner information
Restrictions	Agreement with the School of Economics. The majority of the courses open to exchange students are in the field of Economic Science (NO Management, NO Finance/Accounting/Banking). Here is the list of the available courses for the Academic Year 24/25.
Language requirements	Language certificate of minimum level B2 to take Bachelor's and/or Master's classes (DELFDALF, TCF or a letter written by a French teacher from your home university). If you choose classes taught in English, you must also provide a letter written by an English teacher from your home university or an equivalent language certificate of English (IELTS, TOEFL, etc.).
Useful links	Incoming students Incoming students (Faculty level) Course catalogue Academic calendar Accommodation Cost of living FACT SHEET

What to keep in mind when choosing your destination:

b. Language of study/requirements of the partners

Universities may also define requirements for exchange students, such as a minimum number of credits obtained prior to the exchange, a certain average or specific language requirements to be demonstrated with certain certificates.

It is the responsibility of the applicant to take these aspects into account and to meet the Partner's requirements by the application dates, i.e. by the time when, if selected, it will be necessary to enrol with Partners as exchange students.

WARNING: do not confuse the requirements for exchange students with those for international students enrolling on a full course of study

What to keep in mind when choosing your destination:

c. Cost of living - scholarship: how much it amounts to and when it is paid

Erasmus scholarship:

- two tranches: the first part about two months after the start of the mobility, the balance upon return.
- does not cover all expenses.

More information: <https://www.unipd.it/en/duration-contributions-erasmus-out>

The cost of living can be very different depending on the country and city of destination

What to keep in mind when choosing your destination:

e. Organization of the academic year

Each country and each university has its own organisation in terms of the academic year, which often differs from that of Unipd.

Most are organised in semesters, and generally France and Northern Europe (not Germany) start the academic year in August. This means that you will probably miss an exam session in Padua or part of a term's lessons.

It is possible to take the exams once you return to the first available session.

As everyone will have to re-organise the year in which they will go on mobility, it is important to bear this in mind when choosing where to go.

N.B: in most cases those who win a second call for applications can carry out their mobility starting from the second semester of the following academic year, due to the deadlines of the Partners

What to keep in mind when choosing your destination:

f. Personal needs related to credit registration

At the end of mobility the process of registering credits in the booklet can take up to a month, because it involves the work of several offices (partner university, which has to send the ToR, mobility unit, students careers office).

If you need to have the credits registered by a certain date for financial benefits, accommodation or other personal needs (e.g. enrolment in a Master's degree or PhD programme), this is something to bear in mind, in particular at what time the exam session at the Partner university takes place and, if the information is available, how long it takes for them to send Unipd the certificate of the exams taken.

What to keep in mind when choosing your destination:

h. Any visa requirement and possible renewal of residence permit

Students who are selected for a mobility period are responsible for the documents required to enter the host country.

For example, in the UK, a passport and visa are required, even if you are an Italian citizen. People with non-European citizenship, who study at Unipd with a residence permit, must also make sure that this does not expire during the mobility (postpone departure to the second semester if it expires between September and December) and ensure that they can return to Italy to complete their studies.

It is necessary:

- being full time students at the Partner University at least for 60 days (max 12 months per study cycle)
- that the period spent abroad is uninterrupted (periods of teaching activity are covered)
- obtaining at least 12 credits (at least 3 in the Study Plan)
- end the mobility by the 30 September 2026

The possibility of carrying out the period abroad for selected students is always subject to acceptance by the host foreign institution and, where applicable, the issuing of a visa by the country of destination.

To be admitted to the call it is necessary:

- Being regularly enrolled in the second year of Medicine and Surgery degree programme or the first year of a Master's degree
 - Being up to date with fees payments
 - Students enrolled in Medicine and Surgery: 40 credits registered at the moment in which they apply
- For first-year Master's students applying for the second call, have registered at least 15 CFUs at the time of application (and 40 before the departure)

Do not simultaneously take advantage of other EU-funded scholarships for the same study period abroad for the academic year 2025/2026.

CHOOSE WISELY EACH DESTINATION!

When applying for Erasmus+ for studies, you can choose up to 2 destinations sorted by priority.

All the candidate's options are considered for the ranking of each relevant destination, which is sorted by score.

Winners are declared as such and assigned to only 1 destination per call.

Priority is taken into account when a candidate results among the winners in more than one ranking.
